MAGAZINE MEMBERSHIP GUIDELINES

To qualify for membership in the City and Regional Magazine Association, a magazine must:

1. Be published at least quarterly with general interest content focused on life and living in a specific city, state, or region.

2. CRMA has adopted the 2015 ASME editorial guidelines as the editorial guidelines for CRMA. Member publications must comply with those guidelines which among other standards requires publications to exhibit a clear distinction between editorial and advertising in typography and the conspicuous labelling of special advertising sections, and avoid the placement of advertising pages adjacent to related editorial materials in a manner that implies editorial endorsement of the advertised product or service.

3. Be audited or have circulation verified by an independent entity acceptable to CRMA* within 15 months of becoming a member of CRMA and to obtain an updated circulation audit not less than every two years thereafter.

4. Active voting membership in CRMA is available to those publications with 60% or more in audited paid circulation or to those publications which have a USPS periodicals postal permit. Affiliate, non-voting membership is available to those publications with less than 60 percent paid circulation.

5. CRMA member publications may not have more than 25% of total audited distribution by way of unrequested hotel copies, unrequested waiting room copies or through free rack distribution.

6. Remit membership dues within 30 days of billing.

7. Submit copies for review by members of the Membership Committee and Board of Directors for adherence to content guidelines every two years following acceptance.

Failure to comply with the membership guidelines of the City and Regional Magazine Association may result in the following remedial actions by the Board of Directors.

1. A warning letter explaining non-compliance with recommended remedies and a time frame for effectively addressing these issues.

2. Prohibition from submitting any entries for consideration in the CRMA Annual Awards of Excellence and participation in Publishers’ Roundtables.

3. Termination based on a vote of three-fourths of the Board of Directors.

All recommendations of the Membership Committee regarding membership are subject to final approval by the CRMA Board of Directors.
Circulation audits shall be performed by BPA, ABC, VAC or CVC. For publications located outside the US, firms providing equivalent audit services may be accepted at the discretion of the Membership Committee.
